Undecided Major – York University

http://www.yorku.ca/vanier/unma.html

As an Undecided Major, you can explore areas that interest you, and you have a chance to reflect on important decisions as you choose your major area of study. Research shows that some guidance during the decision-making process leads to better results. You should plan to attend at least four of the sessions listed on the reverse of this sheet, and review the materials of the sessions you are unable to attend; the materials will be posted on the Vanier College website at www.yorku.ca/vanier/unma.html. If you are curious about a particular program, you can always contact that program directly.

Remember that you are required to declare a major by the time you complete 24 credits. While you reflect on this important decision in your first 24 credits, the following resources and supports are available to you.
